Bow Energy exceeds CSG expectations

21 October 2009

BOW Energy has announced the near tripling of the certified 2P coal seam gas (CSG) reserves on the Don Juan Project to 101 petajoules (PJ).

This means the Brisbane-based coal seam gas company has achieved its reserve target for the project over a year ahead of schedule.

Independent certifiers MHA Petroleum Consultants, LLC (MHA) have certified an additional 66.7 PJ for the Taroom coal seams for the project near located about 40km north of Roma, adding to the earlier 34.2 PJ certified for the Juandah coal seams.

Bow Energy's CEO – Commercial, John De Stefani, says the group now has a net total of 55 PJ of 2P reserves, which is 10% more than its year-end 2010 target for the project.

The Don Juan field is also only 15 kilometres from an open access pipeline, offering the potential to supply both domestic and export gas markets.
